ABOUT

Hello! I'm Eva, the person behind Trevallog

An engineer in my previous life, I'm now a full-time writer living in Singapore, a tiny red dot at the heart of Southeast Asia. I spend most of my weekends exploring Singapore or neighboring countries.

About the blog

Trevallog means the travel log of Eva. Since 2015, I've been sharing my travel as well as travel guides to help people like me to explore Southeast Asia independently and confidently.

Readers Testimonials

Thanks for such a precious write up on how to take a bus to JB from SG! It helps for someone like me who is totally clueless. Even in SG, I rarely take the bus/MRT so you can imagine how nervous I am now trying to figure out how to go to another country by bus! I have kinda sorted out the process based on what I read here.

Thank you so much for all the details and things to take note! Is is so so helpful. It is a wonderful journal and guide filled with pictures of Ubin's unique features. I have not visited the island and plan to do so. After reading what you have shared, it helps me to plan and prepare for my trip well. I am looking forward to my Ubin experience!

SARINA

For the past few days, I have been missing everything in Singapore.. Sentosa, Universal, Orchard Road.. I was wondering why was it so special.. It's not because it's my 1st travel after 5 yrs of hiatus. nor was it cos it's my 1st abroad trip with kids.. but do u know what made it so special? It was you! I knew every places like a pro and I'm feeling confident because of your help.

I just want to say thank you again for all your help with my Singapore itinerary last year. My husband and I had such a good time that we are planning to visit the city again in March next year! We cannot wait to go back!
